Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

A) A soluble alloy connecting member with a detachment member with an explosive means.

B) A press fit connecting member with a detachment member with an explosive means.

C) A screw connecting member with a detachment member with an explosive means.

D) A soluble alloy connecting member with a detachment member with a heating means.

E) A screw connecting member with a detachment member with a heating means.

F) A press fit connecting member with a detachment member with a heating means.

G) A soluble alloy connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of heating from an external source.

H) A soluble alloy connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of electromagnetic radiation from an external source.

I) A soluble alloy connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of contact with a chemical solution from an external source.

J) A soluble alloy connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of contact with a specific gas from an external source.

K) A screw connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of heating from an external source.

L) A screw connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of electromagnetic radiation from an external source.

M) A screw connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of contact with a chemical solution from an external source.

N) A screw connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of contact with a specific gas from an external source.

O) A press fit connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of heating from an external source.

P) A press fit connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of electromagnetic radiation from an external source.

Q) A press fit connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of contact with a chemical solution from an external source.

R) A press fit connecting member with no detachment member that is disassembled by the action of contact with a specific gas from an external source.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. As a matter of claim construction claim 24 is taken as not having a detachment member based on page 16, line 27 to page 17, line 2 of the instant specification.

3. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

- A) Claims 13, 14, 18, 19, 23 and 29
- B) Claims 13, 14, 18, 19, 23 and 29
- C) Claims 13, 14, 18, 19, 23 and 29
- D) Claims 13, 15, 16, 18, 20, 21, 23 and 29
- E) Claims 13, 17, 18, 22, 23 and 29
- F) Claims 13, 18, 22, 23 and 29

- G) Claims 24 and 25
- H) Claims 24 and 26
- I) Claims 24 and 27
- J) Claims 24 and 28
- K) Claims 24 and 25
- L) Claims 24 and 26
- M) Claims 24 and 27
- N) Claims 24 and 28
- O) Claims 24 and 25
- P) Claims 24 and 26
- Q) Claims 24 and 27
- R) Claims 24 and 28

4. The following claim(s) are generic: no claims are generic to all of the species.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The only common technical feature of all of the species is a connecting member which can be disassembled. This feature is shown as being old in the art by Chiodo et al. (WO 01/46597 A1, see the abstract). Since the feature is known in the art it cannot be a special technical feature that advances the art. Therefore there is lack of unity of invention.

6. A telephone call was not made to request an election an oral election to the above restriction requirement because of the complexity of the requirement.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to William P. Watkins III whose telephone number is 571-272-1503. The examiner works an increased flex time schedule, but can normally be reached Monday through Friday, 11:30 A.M. through 8:00 P.M. Eastern Time. The examiner returns all calls within one business day unless an extended absence is noted on his voice mail greeting.
